Computer Plan to Aid Madison Desegregation

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Madison Board of Education agreed to participate in a computer control program designed to develop the best methods to effect desegregation of the schools during its meeting Thursday night.

Entitled "Computer Assisted Assignment of Students to Schools to Achieve Desegregation," the services are to be provided by the Illinois Institute of Technical Research Institute of Chicago.

Proposed by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the program will be financed by federal funds, at no cost to the district, through the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Fred Riddle, school superintendent, told the board that participation in the program was recommended by the state office following a visit to the local schools about a month ago.

Ray Gean Home after Successful Kidney Transplant Surgery at Mayo; Son Recovering from Operation

By DONNA HARTWICK
Press-Record Staff Writer

A joyous homecoming was experienced by the Ray Gean family of Granite City Friday afternoon when Mr. Gean arrived home from Mayo Clinic where he underwent a kidney transplant operation on May 19.

Happy smiles were evident as the family once again was reunited after repeated experiences with hospital confinement. The youngest member of the family, 8-month-old Donald, underwent an emergency operation on June 1. He also is recovering well, according to Mrs. Gean.

Although Mr. Gean has lost weight, he looks well and has regained some of 42 pounds he lost while awaiting surgery. He now weighs 100 pounds and is scheduled to return to the Minneapolis clinic on July 4 for a three-day checkup, his wife said.

"We have no idea when he will be able to return to work and the doctors are unable to suggest a date," Mrs. Gean said.

Relatives Stricken
Since it was discovered that Mr. Gean was a victim of Fabry disease, doctors also have learned that his brother, Donald Gean, 47, and a nephew, Larry Cooper, 28, both of Granite City, have the same kidney ailment. They are in the early superintendent of schools and the state OSPI office for acceptance.

In reviewing former school lunch prices, Riddle told the board that the price previously was 35 cents, but the school district became eligible for more financial assistance with inclusion as a federally impacted area, and the price dropped to 20 cents.

But the impacted area funds have been removed, and as a result the school cafeteria operated at a large loss last year, the superintendent said. He added that free lunches will continue to be provided to students unable to pay the cost.

He said the 40-cent rate should bring the cafeteria to the break-even point and is within the range of prices charged by other school districts.

Employ Personnel

Re-employed for the next year its attendance officers, clerical, secretarial, custodial and maintenance personnel, and security officers, a total of 17½ positions.

Motorcycle Hits Curb, Driver, Rider Hurt

The driver of a motorcycle and his passenger were injured seriously at 2:10 a.m. Saturday after the vehicle struck the curb at a curve in the 1400 block of State Street, traveled about 100 feet further and threw its occupants into the roadway along the route.

Charles W. Reed, 26, of 1413 Third St., Madison, was transferred still unconscious from St. Elizabeth Hospital to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis. He suffered multiple lacerations and abrasions to most areas of the body and head and was found lying on the ground about 30 feet from the overturned cycle.

His passenger, Barbara Overton, 27, of 4509 Kirkpatrick Road, who was lying about 20 feet from the machine, sustained multiple abrasions and lacerations to both elbows. X-rays were taken of the skull, knees, and elbows and she was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

July 1 Deadline for Filing Under Illinois Ethics Act

Secretary of State John W. Lewis issued a reminder Friday that those persons required to file under the Illinois Ethics Act must do so by July 1.

Secretary Lewis said "the reminder is being issued because there have been questions raised as to whether filing is required in view of a Cook County Circuit Court ruling April 27 that declared the act unconstitutional. The ruling was appealed to the Illinois Supreme Court and that body on May 23 stayed execution and enforcement of the judgment until it can rule on its constitutionality."

"This means," the Secretary said, "that filing should be made with either the office of Secretary of State or with the county clerk, whichever is appropriate."

Persons required to file with the Secretary of State under the act include members of the Illinois General Assembly and candidates for nomination or election to that body, persons holding an elected office in the executive branch of state government or on the University of Illinois Board of Trustees and candidates for nomination or election to that body, persons appointed to office and subject to confirmation by the Illinois Senate, all judges, including candidates for nomination or election, all persons (except judges) who are engaged in teaching as distinguished from administrative duties who are compensated for services to the

SIU Board Ok's Student Housing at Southwestern

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees Friday approved construction of housing for an additional 1,000 students on the Southwestern campus.

The trustees approved a turn-key plan submitted by Consumers Development and Construction, Ltd., of Chicago. The SIU Foundation will be project developer, selling the housing to SIU-SW by the date of completion. The University will acquire the housing from the SIU Foundation with proceeds of a $5.25 million bond issue.

SIU-SW officials previously had proposed to the trustees that Consumers Development and Construction, Ltd., build the housing under a turn-key arrangement, rather than the traditional arrangement under which the University enters bids from various specialist subcontractors.

Senate Democrats are expected to press for a compromise on the level of aid between that proposed by the governor and the total sought by Bakalis. The budget approved Thursday is $25 million more than was ap-

Drivers Charged in Accident; 3 Injured

Three persons were injured and the drivers of both vehicles were issued tickets in an accident at 12:30 p.m. Friday at Nameoki and Fehle.

Nicholas Cohan, 18, of 2045 Rhodes St., Madison, the driver of one car, was taken unconscious to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a 2½-inch head laceration. He underwent x-rays and was admitted.

Driver of the other auto was August Hufstetler, 21, of 2408 Bryan Ave., who sustained a minor injury. His wife, Patricia, 17, a passenger, suffered two deep cuts to the chin and was admitted at the hospital.

Police said Cohan was ticketed on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way at a left turn after his northbound auto was struck on the right side by the Hufstetler car.

Hufstetler, who was southbound on Nameoki Road, was issued a ticket charging traveling too fast for conditions.

$16.8 Million Budgeted For SIU-SW Buildings

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees approved Friday a $16.8 million capital budget request for the Southwestern Campus for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1973.

The request will go to the Illinois Board of Higher Education, which will consider it later this year.

Top priority among the 32 projects listed in the request is a physical education building at a cost of $4.4 million.

"There are no physical education facilities currently available at the Southwestern campus and needs are barely being met by scheduling classes in areas vacant for short periods of time," the budget document said.

"Practical exercise areas such as basketball and tennis courts are non-existent presently."

Needs are met by traveling to local high school facilities and sharing such facilities when time can be arranged with school administrators. Office space for faculty has been generated by reduction in size of existing office areas, doubling up of staff in office areas and occupancy of storage space."

Second Priority

The second priority is $276,258 to remodel the fifth, sixth and seventh floors of the SIU East St. Louis center, the old Broadview Hotel. Additional classroom space would be provided by the remodeling.

A request of $4.7 million for a fine arts building is given sixth priority. The fine arts building would bring together classrooms, offices, studios and clinic areas currently scattered in buildings on the Southwestern campus and in the Wagner complex five miles from the main campus.

"By bringing the Fine Arts Division together in one facility the quality of instruction, continuity of division activities will be enhanced and classroom space will be freed for other divisions to consolidate their activities," the document says. "The space currently occupied by the Fine Arts Division in many instances is not suitable for the purpose and disturbs adjacent class areas, creates a transportation and parking problem and is makeshift in nature."

Labs in Warehouse

"Labs have been created in warehouse space with minimal provision for teaching facilities. Practice rooms are sandwiched between lecture type class areas and in some instances space in circulation areas has been converted to classroom space."

Rounding out the first 10 priorities are requests of $2.4 million for expansion of the heating and refrigeration plant (priority #7); utilities for the proposed physical education building at a cost of $650,000 (priority #5); $574,465 to plan for additional science laboratories (priority #8); $51,275 to plan for Nursing Division facilities (priority #9); $45,000 to install a standby pump for the water distribution system (priority #3); $2,000 for remodeling of areas of the Science Building (priority #10).

Other requests include $1.47 million to provide facilities for a University educational television station, plus equipment for the station, purchase land for a station transmitter site and provide utilities at the site.

Studio facilities already available on the Southwestern campus are near a level of operation for the preparation of television programs. Preliminary planning has taken place to assure a location for a transmitter building and tower to adequately serve a large population in the area around SIU-SW.

News Notes City Officials Back State Air Control Regulations

Two members of the Illinois Pollution Control Board heard testimony Friday at City Hall in Granite City concerning proposed regulations for the control of air pollution emissions.

Samuel T. Lawton Jr. and James D. Dumele, members of the IPCB, heard witnesses for and against the proposals to regulate airborne particulates, carbon monoxide, sulfur dioxide, photo chemical oxidants, nitrogen dioxide and hydrocarbons. The hearing was the second held by the board, the first having been held the day before in Chicago.

Testifying for speedy implementation of regulations were Dr. Reed Sutton, assistant technical secretary of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Department, and Granite City Alderman William Dallas of the First Ward. Both said high level of dust and particulates matter in Granite City pose a need for immediate relief.

Testifying against the proposed regulations were two Wood River refinery who claimed that attempting to comply with rapidly changing standards is equivalent to "shooting at a moving target."

R. H. Dreith, manager of environmental conservation, and W. R. Durland, refinery superintendent for Well, emphasized that satisfactory regulations now are in effect to meet 1975 clean air standards and further regulations would only impose a hardship while seeking the same goal.

The Illinois House approved at Springfield Thursday afternoon a $788 million state school aid budget recommended by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie. The bill now goes to the Senate.

While Democrats voted in favor of the appropriation and a companion measure reflecting Republican changes in the school aid formula, they failed to substitute a formula proposed by Michael Bakalis, state superintendent of public instruction which proposed a $911 million budget.

Senate Democrats are expected to press for a compromise on the level of aid between that proposed by the governor and the total sought by Bakalis. The budget approved Thursday is $25 million more than was appropriated for the current fiscal.

Representatives of all 11 branches of civil and county government have been invited to attend a conference Wednesday night on establishment of a land use plan for Madison County.

The meeting, scheduled for 7 p.m. at the Round Table Restaurant on Highway 157, was called by Alton May, chairman of the Land Use Committee of the Madison County Board. The meeting is not open to the general public.

May cited a threat by a U.S. Housing and Urban Development official to withdraw federal funds unless a land use plan is developed and adopted.

A resolution calling for an investigation of the Bi-State Transit System was approved unanimously in the Illinois Senate Thursday afternoon. The resolution was introduced by State

Tax Time Here Again; Payment Starts July 3

Collection of personal and real estate property taxes extended in Granite City for the 1971 tax year will get underway Monday, July 3, Treasurer Paul Rutledge announced today.

Rutledge said his office will begin mailing this year's tax bills on June 28 and that all of the bills will be mailed by June 30.

Collections will continue at Rutledge's office in the city hall until Aug. 11 when the books will be returned to the office of County Treasurer George Musso at Edwardsville.

Rutledge said he plans to assess no penalty on tax bills collected locally, since the collection period here will cover a five-week period. Earlier, Rutledge was instructed by the county treasurer to collect a penalty on all taxes still unpaid 30 days after collections begin.

Granite Cityans are charged this year with payment of $11,000,572 in 1971 taxes, an increase of $1.3 million over last year's billing of $9,678,533. This is an increase in the overall tax bill of 13.7%.

Broad-Based SIU-SW Instruction Aimed at Complex Social Problems

(Higher education across the country is changing rapidly. Traditional subject barriers are disappearing as universities adopt new teaching methods to solve emerging problems of society. This is the second in a series detailing some of the changes in education taking place at Southern Illinois University - Southwestern.)

Complex social problems requiring a broad background of understanding have led to degree programs at SIU-SW that break down traditional subject barriers.

The degree programs are part of the local university's continuing effort to meet the demonstrated needs of society.

The programs, at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, reflect philosophies of top university academic officials such as Vice-President and Provost Andrew Kochman.

"There's a need today for interdisciplinary studies as well as studies that follow traditional academic or departmental lines," Kochman said. "We must consider new disciplines, too."

"I'm talking about such people as fine arts specialists, someone who can do more than play an instrument or perform. Why not teach people to use music as therapy, or teach courses leading to specialties in music, oratorship or symphony orchestra management?"

"In nursing, we should teach not only nurses but also nursing administrators and nursing educators."

"Then there are areas like communication specialists, human service workers, behavioral science graduates, regional planners and others cutting across many standard disciplines."

The bachelor of arts degree in human services is one undergraduate program cutting across traditional boundaries to create a new discipline.

The program, begun in September 1970 under the SIU-SW Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections, currently has an enrollment of 85 students, with the first graduates expected in August.

"Graduates of the program will find employment in a variety of agencies and institutions that provide social and rehabilitative services," Director Robert Gilliland said.

There are serious shortages of personnel in law enforcement, corrections, government, social welfare and health services. It's anticipated most of these positions will be filled during the next 10 years by persons who have completed four years of college.

Gilliland said the idea for the degree came from Agency 10.

Venice Council Ok's New $381,186 Bridge Budget

A McKinley bridge operating budget of $381,186 for the 1972-73 fiscal year which begins Oct. 1 was approved by the Venice City Council in regular meeting last week.

The new budget, which is subject to approval by the Hardesty & Hanover engineering firm of New York who represent the bondholders, is $869 less than this year's appropriation.

The budget reflects a 5% salary increase for bridge employees. Total operating expenses for the 1972-73 year are set at $102,728, up from this year's $99,070. Maintenance expense is fixed at $29,340, compared to $32,780 during the current year.

General administrative expenses were reduced $905.

The largest single item in the budget is $106,000 for insurance, followed by salaries for 11 toll collectors amounting to $77,880.

The council also voted to accept a $34,240 grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission to help fund a police community relations program. Chief of Police Ralph Brawley told the council he expects to have the plan in operation by July 1.

Chief Brawley said neighborhood recreational programs and activities involving senior citizens, youths and the schools are to be established. The program will operate out of offices at the Venice City Hall.

Mayor John Lee read a letter from the council from Alton M. Chairman of the Madison County Board, urging representation from Venice at a meeting at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville June 21.

Purpose of the meeting will be to review and formulate a course of action necessary to comply with Housing and Urban Development agency directive that a comprehensive Land use plan be adopted.

A resolution was passed by the council endorsing legislation dividing the East Side Levee and Sanitary District into two separate districts. The resolution urges Governor Richard Ogilvie to facilitate the passage of the legislation.

To Co-Host Meeting

The council approved plans to join with Madison in hosting a meeting June 28 of the Criminal Information Exchange Association.

A police department report for the month of May indicated a total of 44 arrests, 31 adult and 13 juvenile, and receipt of $142.10 from the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court for fines collected.

Requests by the Newport Homecoming Association for permission to hold a parade, subject to the approval of a subject by the Chief of Police, was granted.

The council reappointed Harold Koelker to the police pension board for one year.

Citizens Group Seeks Action on Dobrey Drainage

A resolution calling upon the East Side Levee and Sanitary District to retain a special attorney to acquire the right-of-way necessary for construction of drainage improvements in the Dobrey Slough area has been adopted by the Inter-governmental Citizens Committee, an organization of Nameoki Township and northeast Granite City residents who are seeking the improvement.

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, chairman of the group, said the resolution was adopted in protest of long delays in acquisition of right-of-way for construction of a drainage channel which has been planned by the Illinois Division of Waterways. The project would be financed by the state and the levee district.

Plans for construction of a drainage channel from Dobrey Slough to Horseshoe Lake were initiated two years ago with the state agreeing to furnish $10,000 of the cost, estimated at that time at $150,000. The plan called for the levee district to provide the right-of-way through farmland areas south of Pontoon Road.

The district's efforts to obtain the easements struck a snag when the owners of two tracts of lands refused to provide right-of-way and the levee district was forced to file condemnation proceedings. Court action in the cases has lagged and the citizens group has criticized the levee district's general months delay in filing the proceedings.

The resolution points out that levee district promises to install a large culvert at the south end of the lake near Route 111 to help lower the levee level in times of heavy rain. Copies of the resolution were sent to the levee district, the Nameoki Township Executive Trust and Action Committee, the Madison County Citizens Environmental Council, the Inter-governmental Council, Governor Richard B. Ogilvie and legislators of the area.

The new modern design building will house between 300 and 400 pupils in kindergarten through sixth grades. Plans for the new school have been drawn and construction is expected to start this summer.

The release of the funds will be coordinated between the ICDA and the Illinois School Building Commission.

Amvets Post 51 has authorized acquisition of replacement parts necessary to refurbish the F84F memorial jet fighter which recently was moved from its former location in Wilson Park due to excessive vandalism.

The action was taken last week at a meeting at the Post 51 Home, 5100 Lakeview Drive, Charles Wilkins Jr., newly elected commander, was in charge.

Steve Konkovich, who was responsible for acquiring the jet plane from the U. S. Air Force, reported the aircraft now has been transferred to a permanent location in Wilson Park.

The F84F jet is anchored on three concrete slabs and the area has been sodded with grass, he said. Eventually, the Granite City Park District is planning to beautify the site with flowers, shrubs and an asphalt walkway, Konkovich reported.

On completion of the refurbishing project, all bolts, screws and exterior fixtures will be sealed to prevent further vandalism to the aircraft.

Plans were completed for a buffet in observance of Father's Day. Members learned the club's adopted mascot, "Bigfoot," a large boxer dog, has died as a result of poisoning.

At Damal, financial officer, gave a fiscal report and Rex Manning, service officer, noted that flowers were delivered to Floyd Tucker and Mayor Donald Partney, both members of Post 51 who are hospitalized.

State Plan to Prompt More Library Careers

Secretary of State and State Librarian John W. Lewis has announced the beginning of a $142,000 project designed to recruit minority group members into careers in the library profession.

The Minorities Manpower Project, a pilot program sponsored jointly by the Illinois State Library and the American Library Association, will provide free tuition and $60,000 living stipends for ten minority students in the Chicago area to study for the master's degree in library science, Secretary Lewis said.

Supported by Library Services and Construction Act funds from the Illinois State Library, the project also will provide for a minority recruitment specialist in the ALA staff who will implement the pilot project and provide guidance for the development of similar programs throughout the country.

One of the most severe problems confronting the profession is the shortage of adequate manpower to effectively serve various minority groups such as Afro-Americans, Spanish-speaking persons, American Indians, Puerto Ricans and Asian Americans.

LOSES PART OF FINGER Ruth Dagan, 44, of 3845 B St., was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital last week after part of a finger on her right hand was amputated when her hand became caught in a washing machine belt. She was released after treatment.

National Y-Indian Guide Museum Opens

The national Y-Indian Guide Program—which has ten tribes with 120 members here—now has a national Y-Indian Guide Museum. Just dedicated, the red rock museum is at Woolaroc, near Bartlesville, Okla., in the heart of what was once Indian territory.

"Without doubt, many Y-Indian Guides from Granite City, as well as YMCA members and others, will visit the museum each year," Marvin VanMetre, executive director of the local YMCA comments.

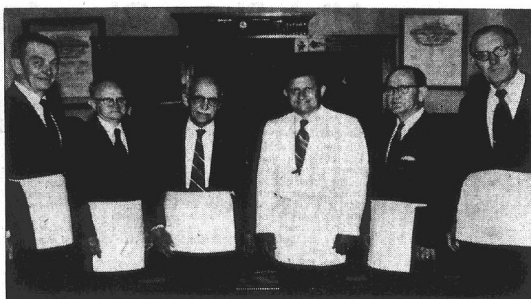

"It will help immensely in our efforts to understand the Indian culture—more important than ever, as we try to get closer to today's Indians and their problems."

The dedication was attended by Harold Keltner, who originated with Joe Friday, an Ojibwa Indian, the Y Indian Guides in 1926 in St. Louis. Also present were other YMCA and Phillips Foundation notables. The museum, part of Woolaroc, a long-established wildlife preserve featuring a herd of 600 buffalo, antelope, other wild animals, nature trails, an Indian museum and other Indian attractions, often draws 4,000 to 5,000 visitors a day. It is open 365 days a year.

There are a half-million members of the Y-Indian Guide program nationally.

The Y-Indian Guide Museum, with authentic Indian artifacts given by 30 Indian tribes and more in the offering, has a 200-seat auditorium with a multi-media show of Indian history.

Birth Projection Object of Census

How many children do married women expect to have within the next five years? Will they average the same number as in the recent past? Answers to these questions will indicate the future growth and composition of the nation's population, data vital to planners both in government and private business.

Guy A. Lutz, director of the Bureau of the Census Data Collection Center in St. Paul, has announced that information on birth expectations will be collected during the week of June 19-23 from a sample of households in this area. The questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey of employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor.

Results of this monthly survey provides a continuing measure of the economic health of the country. The April survey showed that the overall unemployment rate was 5.9%, the same as in March and about the same as a year ago. Total employment, which rose 2.2 million over the past year, was also about the same as in March.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is confidential and results are used only to compile statistical totals. The law safeguarding the confidentiality of information applies to surveys as well as major censuses conducted by the Bureau of the Census.

Sunday Day for Hitters—St. Mary's 12, Mercer 10

The day of the hitters in the Inter-City Baseball league was yesterday as St. Mary's Boosters outslamed Mercer 12-10 in Madison.

Mercers outhit the Boosters 14 to 12, and each team committed two errors.

"We outlasted them," Boosters Manager Jim Greer commented. Wendall Corey, the Mercer manager, simply stated, "It was a terrible game."

Mercer scored three runs in the first inning and held the lead until the sixth when it became 6-4 for the Boosters.

In the bottom of the seventh St. Mary's bats blasted seven runs. Ron Davis started it with a triple. Teammates following him across the plate were John Papa, Al Breen, Don Bunk, Ken Cook, Jim Cromer and Frank Papa.

Davis, the Madison High School baseball coach, was four-for-five as he slugged a triple, double and two singles. Breen was three-for-five with two doubles and a single.

Joe Restoff was credited with the victory as he took the mound in the fifth, relieving John Piechoncinski.

The St. Mary's Boosters are now a half game out of the Blue Division lead with a 4-3 record. Mercer is in third place with a 3-5 mark.

"We played terrible. We scored most of our runs on walks. I don't even want to talk about the game," Corey lamented.

Don Harris led the Mercer attack with four-for-five day at bat while Bob Scott and Jim Greenwald were each three-for-five.

Mercer will host Fairfax at 2 p.m. Sunday as St. Mary's travels to Troy for a 1:30 p.m. double header.

In other league action Sunday Melton beat Fairfax 19-1.

High Flying Olympic Team Brings 'New Era' to Soccer

The nation's number one sports fan has written a letter of congratulations to Robert Guelker, coach of the U. S. Olympic Soccer team and soccer coach at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

The "Dear Coach Guelker" letter reads: "Congratulations are in order to you and to all the members of the U.S. Olympic Soccer team for the exciting victory in the North American zone finals."

"The team's triumph in St. Louis can well mean a new era in American soccer, and needless to say, you and each of your players have my best wishes for a strong showing this summer in Munich. Sincerely, Richard Nixon."

Guelker's is the first U.S. team to qualify for the final round of Olympic competition in soccer, a sport only now beginning to attract a large American following.

In many other countries, soccer is the principal spectator sport.

"Because we are behind other countries in soccer," Guelker said, "We have to use our two assets." One of these, he said, is the size and speed of American players, which gives them an advantage in stamina in the high-pressure game.

"More importantly," Guelker said, "we have the intangibles—desire, determination, willingness to sacrifice and attitude—the attitude of never quitting. Our kids just won't quit."

The U.S. soccer team will play its first game in the summer Olympics Aug. 27 in Munich, Germany.

Cyclist Evel Knievel To Perform at Track

St. Louis International Raceway will host the only area appearance of Cyclist Evel Knievel Saturday and Sunday.

The two-day event of the East St. Louis race track will be highlighted by Knievel making a death-defying ramp-to-ramp jump on his Harley-Davidson motorcycle. Along with the jump, Knievel has a large repertoire of trick riding and wheelstands which also is included in his program.

A flamboyant man, Knievel is noted for landing his own airplane on the racetrack and his stylish clothes. Married, with three children, the Butte, Mont., resident will on Labor Day, attempt to jump the Snake River Canyon, a distance of one mile, on his jet-powered motorcycle.

Knievel is best remembered for his crash at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas which broke practically every bone in his body. Undaunted by the disaster, Knievel recovered, began jumping again and last year aided in the production of the movie "Evel Knievel" which depicted the life and thrills of the 33-year-old daredevil.

The jump by Knievel will be augmented by the appearance of the "Little Red Wagon", a funny car show, as well as a complete drag racing program. Gates will open at 4 p.m. Saturday with racing to begin at 8 p.m. The ramp-to-ramp jump by Knievel will be at 9:30 p.m. Gates will open at 8 a.m. Sunday with racing beginning at 2 p.m. and Knievel repeating his death defying jump at 3:30 p.m.

Sports Field Contract Let

A $162,001 contract for development of outdoor physical education facilities at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern was awarded Friday by the SIU Board of Trustees.

The award was made to the Atlas Paving Co. of Godfrey. The facilities, largely for intramural use, will include courts for handball, tennis and basketball; fields for softball, flag football, soccer and field hockey; and an archery range.

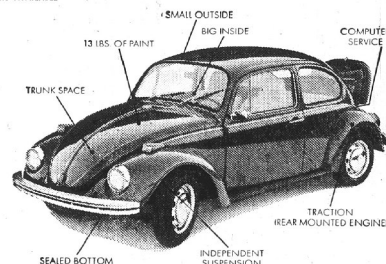

The facilities will be located in the northwest portion of the academic core area.

The money, to be used to purchase equipment for classes of handicapped children, was collected by the Eagles Jimmy Durante Fund which makes several presentations each year to schools or organizations which assist handicapped children.

After giving the oath of office, the meeting was adjourned. Immediately after the ceremony the Eagles Aerie held a district meeting.

Tax Freeze Seen as Harmful to Schools

Illinois Education Association Executive Secretary Curtis Platt last week charged that passage of House Bill 4680 would create financial disaster for a great many Illinois public school districts.

"Should the bill become law, it would freeze school district revenue from property taxes, resulting in financial strangulation for a large proportion of school districts," Platt asserted. "While it may satisfy the pocketbook, the bill constitutes a serious threat to public school education."

"The proposal is totally unrealistic in that the cost of living is increasing from 3 1/2 to 7% a year, while schools would have to function at the current level of support through 1974," he said. "Suppliers are not likely to give school districts a break on prices."

Man Sues City for $25,000 in Back Pay

A civil suit for $25,000 has been filed for retired patrolman Louis Mank against the City of Granite City in Madison County Circuit Court. Mank claims the amount as back wages and damages during a period from Dec. 13, 1969, when he was suspended from the police department in action taken by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners. A dismissal followed on Feb. 9, 1970. The court subsequently reversed the dismissal and ordered that Mank be reinstated. He recently was placed on disability retirement due to injuries previously sustained while on duty.

Seek Funds to Send Olympic Team to Munich

A boy or girl from this metropolitan area could win an all-expense paid trip plus $100 pending money to the Olympic Games in Munich, Germany, this August.

More than 20,000 boys and girls across the country, including at least 400 from this area, will be organized to solicit contributions from the public to help send U. S. athletes to the Olympic Games in Germany this summer, it was announced Wednesday at a news conference.

Present were St. Louis Mayor A. J. C. Corvantes, Bob Guelker, U. S. Olympic Soccer team coach and SIU-SW coach, Guelker's assistant, Pat McBride, former U. S. Olympic team coach, and Larry Whitstiff, shot putter George Woods and other sports figures.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Louis Meyer, soccer enthusiast, led the group in prayer and Carl Weber served as master of ceremonies at the news conference.

Three young boys or girls from throughout the U. S. will win the trip to the Olympic Games through their own efforts of collecting contributions from their neighbors in a door-to-door solicitation June 28. The drive will continue through Monday, July 24.

Goal of the fund drive will be to help raise the $2,000,000 still needed to send the U. S. Olympic team to Germany. $8 million of the $10 million goal already has been raised by corporate and individual donations.

Here's how it will work: Each Red Barn manager will recruit at least 100 boys and girls in his store's area to solicit contributions. From that group, there will be chosen 10 crew leaders.

All the youngsters will be rewarded with prizes, ranging from Red Barn's specialty, the Barnbuster, and a soda the stars and stripes glass up to the trip to Germany.

Each local boy and girl collecting $5 or more during the four-week fund drive will receive a 1972 U. S. Olympic Games patch. To be eligible for the three big awards, the youngster must collect at least $20.

First and second prizes locally are a red-and-white windbreaker, with a U. S. Olympic patch; a pair of basketball shoes; a U. S. flag wristwatch; a sweatshirt with Olympic patch and insignia; and a set of four glasses.

Third prize consists of an instant camera outfit, a sweatshirt and a set of glasses. Fourth through 10th: camera, sweatshirt and set of glasses. In all there will be $60,000 in prizes, including the three trips to the Olympics.

Russell F. Bergin, president of St. Louis Red Barns, also spoke at the conference. He said any boy or girl who wants to participate can go to a Red Barn restaurant and sign up to take part.

representatives who had to hire employees with bachelor degrees and wondered why students could not be prepared specifically for work in corrections, mental health or other helping professions.

Students in the program take 48 academic credit hours consisting of four specially designed courses, each spread out over three academic quarters: —Orientation to Human Services, an informal seminar focusing on the interrelated topics of poverty, education, employment, delinquency, crime, health and welfare. The seminar includes talks with resource persons brought in from various agencies and field trips to social agencies and institutions throughout Illinois Metro-East.

Field Study in Human Services, in which students spend two half-days per week at local agencies such as police departments, juvenile courts, detention homes, public schools, public aid offices, mental hospitals and halfway houses. The students share their experiences weekly in a two-hour seminar and carry out individualized programs of reading and writing in their area of field activity.

Research in Human Services, focusing on applied research within Illinois Metro-East. Each student conducts an individual project with relevance to a field such as counseling and testing, criminal behavior, social planning or ecology.

Practicum in Human Services, taken during the senior year, allows a student to practice skills acquired during the previous three years. The student works in an area agency and is expected to take on more responsibility than during the field study of the sophomore year. Practicum credit can be earned during the summer months through full-time experiences in social agencies. The human services degree also requires a secondary concentration of 22 credit hours in one of 10 fields and several additional courses in government and sociology.

The courses are conceived as a continuing series of experiences over the four years whereby the individual learns ways of helping people who have problems," Gilliland said.

Another program leading to a new degree is the bachelor of science in sanitation technology, the only such four-year degree program in the country. Under the supervision of the SIU-SW chemistry department, the program has attracted 21 students since its inception in September 1971.

To achieve the degree, students must take upper-level courses in biology, engineering, mathematics, physics and chemistry as well as 37 academic credit hours in specially designed sanitation technology courses.

George Hansberry, director of the program, said the need is pressing:

"Our usable water supply is at a critical level. We are unable to do something about it because we see our country's own careless misuse of and extravagance with water as one example of our earth's total problem.

"Oil slicks, garbaged streams, chemically polluted and trash-ridden lakes are facts of today's life. Someone must do something to correct these thoughtless, misdirected acts."

Hansberry said graduates will be able to assist designers of wastewater treatment plants; operate treatment plants and fulfill administrative responsibilities; enter industry as a sales representative in sanitation technology areas; or work for state or federal environmental protection agencies.

"Highly interdisciplinary" is how John Oldani describes the program he directs at SIU-SW leading to a bachelor of arts degree in American studies. Oldani said the program, involving the humanities, fine arts and social science divisions, currently has 38 students working for the degree.

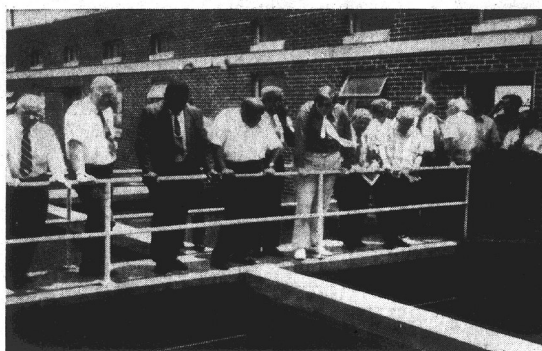

"We study American culture, past and present," Oldani said. "The roots are in American history, literature and philosophy, but we branch into the fine arts, the American character, folklore, political science, economics, popular culture and other areas."

"Studying America in this broad manner, the student avoids the traditionally narrow approach of a single discipline and is better able to comprehend what's meant by the culture and civilizations of America."

Oldani said the degree can prepare students for entry into government service, creative writing, library or museum work, the law, social work or teaching.

At the graduate level, SIU-SW has instituted several interdisciplinary master's degree programs.

The master's degree in behavioral science includes courses in economics, sociology, government, psychology and anthropology, according to program coordinator Robert Engbretson.

The program, begun in 1967, has an enrollment of 45. Engbretson said the goal is for students to understand human social problems through exposure to many variables of culture, institutions, social processes and individual behavior.

"We've found the program appeals to two types of students — the practicing professionals such as clergymen, nurses and teachers, or the recent university graduates wanting an advanced degree in something other than a traditional course concentration," Engbretson said.

One of the most demanding graduate level programs that has broken down traditional academic barriers is the new master of science degree in urban and regional planning. The program, supervised by the earth sciences department, requires 72 quarter hours of credit, 24 hours more than most master's programs.

Melvin Kazeck, chairman of the earth sciences department, said the degree is consistent with SIU-SW's role as an urban-oriented university.

"The demand for professionally trained people in urban and regional planning has been great in the past. Due to the many commitments on environmental problems by local, state and federal agencies, this demand will be greater in the future," Kazeck said.

Mrs. Frances Gean will see her doctor within a few days to determine when she will enter a Bellevue Hospital for major surgery that had to be postponed until her family could recover.

Many benefit projects have been held in an effort to help the Granite City family financially. These included several dances, a basketball game and a donation of $1,040 by the Tri-City Amateur Radio Club, as well as donations by many individual area residents.

"Although we do not know many of the people who have contributed to the bank fund to aid our family, my husband and I wish to express our thanks for all the assistance we have received," Mrs. Gean said.

"The field of urban and regional planning provides a range of opportunities for black as well as white students and a challenge for young people who wish to help solve environmental problems."

Proposed master's degree programs in urban studies and environmental studies which would involve faculty members from numerous academic disciplines here are pending before the Illinois Board of Higher Education after having been approved by the SIU Board of Trustees.

Strip Mining Law Draws Flood of Permits in State

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield—Applications for strip mining permits are flooding the Illinois department of mines and minerals as the July 1 effective date of the new strip mine control law nears.

Gene Filer, supervisor of land reclamation, said that about 100 applications have been received and estimated that about 140 permits will be issued before the year ends.

Many mining operation applications expected later in the year will be for quarries, Filer said, which often uncover at one time enough area to operate for two or three years. These, he said, probably will not apply for a permit until they know for sure they will actually be stripping new areas soon.

Under the strip mining law, the mining group must first file a copy of their plans for reclaiming the site, after mining has begun, with the county in which the operation will be conducted. The county acknowledges that it has received the plan must be submitted to the state department of mines and minerals along with the permit application, and the county involved then has 25 days in which to notify the department whether the plan is satisfactory, give notice if not, and make recommendations, or by remaining silent, give consent to the proposed reclamation plans.

In some cases, the 25 days have passed, and permits have been issued, Filer said. In five cases where counties have replied so far, changes have been recommended, he said, and in one case, the recommendation has already been acted on.

Applicants seeking strip mining permits pay $50, plus $35 for each acre affected. In some cases, Filer said, permit fees run to thousands of dollars for a single operation.

GC Steel Women View Stars and Signs

Posters and table appointments featuring a theme of the stars and signs connected with astrology, along with background music reflecting the same focus of interest, decorated the dining area for the Granite City Steel Women's Association final meeting of the season.

The affair took place last week in the cafeteria of the Granite City Steel Building. Guest speaker was Mrs. Arthur Neff of Belleville, a widely-known astrologist, who lectured on the topic "Thank Your Lucky Stars."

Mrs. Neff, who has been lecturing for more than 20 years on astrology, covered all 12 signs of the astrological chart and gave a forecast for each sign during the talk.

Another highlight of the evening was the installation of new officers. Edith Hendrick, assisted by Muriel Fossick, conducted the ceremony.

Those installed were Ruth Hancock, president; Dorothy Rushing, vice-president; Kathleen Murphy, recording secretary; Dolores Corbett, treasurer; and Terese Morgan, corresponding secretary.

A gift was presented to Betty Goldschick, the retiring president, and a forecast for each sign during the talk.

The program committee consisted of Edith Hendrick, chairman, assisted by Lottie Schuster, Gerry Dublar, Mary Jo Paulett and Muriel Fossick.

MRS. GODFREY P. JARABAK, the former Miss Phyllis Ann Boda, a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Boda, 2017 St. Clair Ave., and Godfrey Paul Jarabak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jarabak, 2021 Atchison Ave., Whiting, Ind., were united in marriage by the bride's father on Sunday evening.

Miss Phyllis Ann Boda, Godfrey Jarabak Wed

Miss Phyllis Ann Boda, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Boda, 2017 St. Clair Ave., and Godfrey Paul Jarabak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jarabak, 2021 Atchison Ave., Whiting, Ind., were united in marriage by the bride's father on Sunday evening.

St. John Lutheran Church, 2001 St. Clair Ave., where the Rev. Boda is pastor, was the setting for the 6:30 p.m. ceremony.

A specially designed banner was centered between arrangements of white flowers and greenery in the chancel, and lighted tapers in candelabra, stationed at the pews, illuminated the white carpeted aisle.

Henry J. Engelhardt, of St. Louis, presided at the organ and John T. Severine Sr., was trumpeter for both the processional, "Water Music," and recessional, "Trumpet Voluntary."

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a gown she designed and created of polyester satinette, trimmed with Venise lace.

A low Empire waistline and stand-up collar were accented with two rows of lace, embellished with tiny seed pearls. Elizabethan sleeves were fashioned with a lower part of sheer organza and enhanced with matching lace appliques. A deep ruffle edged the hemline of the full skirt featuring lace motifs scattered at random on the front.

The detachable chapel length train was bordered with a deep ruffle and trimmed with appliques of lace and pearls. She wore a camellia headpiece of matching fabric and lace securing a triple tiered fingertip veil. Her bouquet was an arrangement of stephanotis and baby breath centered with an orchid corsage.

Miss Ellen Boda, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, with Miss Lydia Jarabak, sister of the groom, Miss Deborah Eckhoff, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Gayle Beth Royko of Glen Ellyn, Ill., as bridesmaids.

They wore identically styled gowns of polyester, featuring deep ruffles around the skirt hemlines, stand-up collars and short puffed sleeves. The bodice fronts were tucked to the Empire waists and accented with matching satin ribbon sash, each in a different color. The maid of honor chose a pastel shade of pink, while the bridesmaids selected green, yellow and blue. Miniature fireside baskets of matching daisies, baby breath and streamers were carried.

George Johnson was best man with James Boda, brother of the bride, Craig Schaefer and Robert Heiliger as groomsmen. Ushers were Luther Boda, brother of the bride, Paul Edward Sattelmair and Darrel Goliniz.

The couple was honored with a reception in the church fellowship hall, served by the ladies of the congregation immediately after the ceremony. Miss Sharon Azari presided at the guest book.

Tan-Tara Resort at the Lake of the Ozarks was the place chosen for the wedding trip. They will reside at Gaslight Walk Apartments upon their return.

The bride attended Granite City schools and received a

The Schermmer Bulletin ...

Time flies. Here we are closing in on the 4th of July. In case you haven't noticed, eggs are an unusually good buy these days. For hot summer days egg meals are not only nutritious but cooling. Cottage cheese is another suggestion.

Some of our key people have been missing recently. Art Grissman finished up the second week of his vacation and Rick Noeth is returning from his honeymoon. In the checkout department, Pat King was out last week and Rose Yates will be gone this week.

We have a newcomer filling in at the check lanes, Louise Allen who moved to Granite City this year. She and her husband, James, were in the grocery business for years in Malvern, Arkansas, and we have known them for many years. If you like to hear a real Arkansas drawl, check out with Louise, a real friendly gal. Of course all Schermmer checkers have to be real friendly gals and guys.

Speaking of checkout, if you are getting tired of standing in line at other stores, come to Schermmers. We have the staff to do the job. We don't skimp on the "front end." Plenty of checkers, and of course plenty of box boys to carry out your order. We have seven checkouts and when we need them we have someone to operate them. There is nothing more disgusting than to sweat out a long line in a super market that has empty check lanes that could be used if they would only hire someone to man them. When we are "real" busy, Leo, Avery, John, Herman, Ray, Mike and Rick are available for "peak" loads, and we don't hesitate to call them. Try the fast courteous checkout service in our store. 'Generalists' Comprise New Field in Education

Copple News Service Springfield—In an age of specialists, the Illinois superintendent of public instruction has come up with a new one—a group of educators whose specialty is being "generalists."

Michael Stramaglia, assistant superintendent for elementary and secondary education, said four or five generalists will be hired, and the office will have a "new thrust" in curricula development in the state's schools. Other aspects of the proposed program will be a pilot study starting next September in 18 districts, under which the districts themselves will decide what they want to be evaluated on; greater emphasis on use of media centers in the schools; emphasis on more individualized education of the child, and a change in workshop staffing procedures which Stramaglia estimates will save the state some $100,000 next year.

In the past Stramaglia said, the department contracted with persons outside the department to conduct workshops and in-service training programs, which now will be handled by department personnel.

Only exceptions, he said, will be perhaps 5% of the total, where the department does not have enough staff members with sufficient expertise to conduct programs in certain subject areas.

Illinois Leads

The need for the "general-

ists" arose, he said, because the department has recently established increasing numbers of specialized areas, such as ethnic education, early childhood education (starting at the three and four-year-old level), urban education, conservation town—an area in which Stramaglia feels Illinois leads any other state in the nation.

But current trends, he said, indicate that it is not enough to send a history specialist into a school district to evaluate the school's history courses only, or to send someone who views conservation education merely as an agricultural subject.

Because of the broad range of their backgrounds and experience, Stramaglia said, the generalists will be able to see where relationships do or should exist between subjects, such as English and history, social studies and art, or conservation education and science.

Under revised approaches adopted by the office of Michael Bakalis, superintendent of public instruction, are the encouragement of assessments of local educational needs, promotion of cooperative planning at all levels, and emphasizing and promotion of individualized learning at all school levels, Stramaglia said. This can only be accomplished, he added, by cooperation between the local community, the school district and OSPI.
